New @ your Library!

Facility Needs Survey

We need your help in planning our Library's future. We are working on a long-range plan to establish Library facility priorities for the coming years, and your thoughts matter. Take the survey for a chance to win an iPad. See page 2 for more details.

Multi-Media Studio at Brodie!

We have a new, well equipped multi-media studio at the Brodie Library. For more details about the space and a contest to name the new studio, see page 11.

Especially for Teachers - New Curriculum Units Available

There is now a full unit available for teachers to access based on the Stories of Anishinaabe Resilience project. The curriculum was developed by a qualified teacher and consists of six units. More details on page 5.

New Service Levels and Library Hours

All library locations will be offering in person service beginning on Monday, February 28. New hours of operation are also in effect, including evening and weekend hours on both sides of the City. Full details are on the back cover.

Climate Change Collection

We have new books and DVDs now available at Brodie and Waverley on this urgent and important global concern. We will be officially launching this newly curated collection on April 20 (see page 4 for more details). Items are available for borrowing now!

New Indigenous Art at Brodie and Waverley

Visit the Brodie and Waverley Libraries to experience the full impact of new artwork that has been installed at these locations as part of the Stories of Anishinaabe Resilience Project and FELT. SEW. FULL Project. Page 6 contains photos and more details.

message from the CEO

TBPL has an exciting set of projects in its 2022 Action Plan that will deliver the objectives laid out in the Strategic Plan for 2019-23.

In terms of fostering a safe, clean and healthy community TBPL will be continuing its work to develop information literacy and in particular online information literacy for students. This is particularly important given the amount of fake news and misinformation that is circulating about COVID-19 and climate change.

With regards to challenging racism and cultivating diversity and inclusion, TBPL will continue to develop partnerships with Indigenous organizations and celebrate Thunder Bay's increasingly diverse community. We will also review everything we do at TBPL through a REDI - anti-racism, equity, diversity, and inclusion - lens.

Mitigating the impact of homelessness will be addressed by establishing guidelines (including food insecurity) and removing barriers to access. This work began in 2020 when we eliminated fines and continued in 2021 when we wiped all fines from library records.

Young people will be encouraged to participate in youth programming - namely a new gaming space and collection and an exciting new creative studio space at Brodie Library. Areas specifically for teens will also be enhanced at our two large libraries.

In response to the impact of the COVID-19 pandemic on the city's economy, TBPL has added another strategic objective to contribute to the economic recovery of the community by updating some of our online resources. We are also working with PARO and the CEDC to do presentations for entrepreneurs in utilizing library resources to help their businesses plan and grow.

These strategic objectives emerged from conversations with the community in which we explored your needs and aspirations. You gave us a mandate to pursue these objectives and we will report back to you on our progress and achievements in our Annual Report to the Community each year.

Take Our Survey and You'll Be Entered in a Draw to Win an iPad!

We need your help in planning our Library's future. We are working on a long-range plan to establish Library facility priorities for the coming years, and your thoughts matter.

To thank you for your time, when you submit a completed survey by March 7, 2022, you will be entered in our draw to win an iPad. We encourage EVERY member of your household to participate.

Once we have collected and analyzed the results, we will present our findings to the Library Board and use this information to guide Library planning for our community.

As always, we will protect your input and keep it anonymous. Visit this link to take the survey. Thank you!

partners & donors

Thank You, Partners!

We'd like to thank the Thunder Bay Community Foundation (TBCF) for their generous support! This year, TBCF is providing a much-needed boost to our Early Readers, Youth Graphic Novels, Large Print, and Employment & Skills Training collections. With this funding we will be adding both physical and eBooks to our shelves. Visit us in person or online to check them out!

Thank you TBCF for your continued support!

This is just a sampling of the purchases:

Thank You, Library Donors!

In 2021, hundreds of our friends and neighbours did a remarkable thing. They donated to TBPL.

Thank you to all the donors who, despite the ongoing pandemic, which no doubt caused many moments of stress and fatigue, still chose to support us!

By making a donation to TBPL last year, you helped us keep our virtual shelves stocked when we couldn't be open for you to browse in person. You helped create an exciting new multi-media studio at Brodie, which will help young people and entrepreneurs launch their dream careers through the use of our recording and editing equipment, musical instruments and much more!

Because of you, we were able to increase our online programming and introduce new programs like live meditation sessions for teens, to help them cope with the stresses of COVID. We also added adult Take Home kits and the incredibly popular Spice Club!

These things (and so many more!) happened because you believed in the importance of Library services and programming, even when we couldn't deliver them in person. Indeed, these programs became even more important to keep you and all our community members connected during the numerous shut downs and restrictions.

Thank you from the bottom of our hearts.

Staff members test out the new multi-media space.

NEW Climate Change Collection @ Brodie and Waverley

A global crisis is unfolding with devastating forest fires, flooding, destructive storms, vanishing species and melting ice caps. TBPL is responding with a new collection of books and DVDs on the topic of Climate Change.

The official media launch will be on Wednesday, April 20, but the materials are currently available for borrowing and new titles are being added each week.

We recognize the urgent importance of this information and have partnered with other local agencies and individual citizens to curate and provide a range of essential materials on the various aspects of this global concern. We also are highlighting materials from the Indigenous Knowledge Centre which speak directly to the critical and fundamental role that the Indigenous perspective has played in regard to our relationship with the natural world and land and water stewardship. We invite you to explore this collection and also engage with our online resources through our website.

Search for these materials in our online catalogue by choosing the search term climate change collection.

Stories of Anishinaabe Resilience (SOAR) Project

Stories of Anishinaabe Resilience is a multi-faceted project.

The goal of the SOAR project is to increase awareness and commemorate the history and legacy of St. Joseph's Residential School, while also honouring residential school survivors, their families, and communities.

SOAR Podcast

Survivors of St. Joseph's Residential School open up about their personal experiences at the school known as the "boarding school". Listen to their personal accounts each month beginning the first week of April. Visit www.tbpl.ca/soarproject for the streaming application.

Art Work

Several painted art pieces have been or will be installed at Brodie and Waverley Resource Libraries. Each piece commemorates and honours the survivors of St. Joseph's Residential School.

About the artists:

Quill Christie-Peters is an Anishinaabe arts programmer and self-taught visual artist currently residing in Northwestern Ontario. Her mural, "despite it all, we are all they can never have" depicts the beauty, wholeness and complexity of who we are as Anishinaabeg, despite the violence we have endured through residential schools. Find this mural at the Waverley Library.

Rufus Moonias is an emerging Oji-Cree artist from Neskantaga First Nation. His mural entitled, "Resilience", "represents the resiliency of survivors from residential schools, group homes, foster homes, hospitals, and/or jails. Many Indigenous people lost a part of their identity at these places. This painting spreads awareness for our surviving children who became elders." Find this mural at the Brodie Library.

Brian Michon is Anishinaabe originally from Fort William First Nation, and raised in Geraldton, Ontario. Three painted portraits of St. Joseph's Residential School survivors and an outdoor mural will be installed and unveiled at the Brodie Library. Stay tuned for details.

The St. Joseph's Residential School Research report is available for download at www.tbpl.ca/soarproject Curriculum has been developed for use in Thunder Bay high schools. The unit plan is available for download by contacting Robyn Medicine. See more details in the right hand column on this page.

This project was funded in part by the Government of Canada.

SOAR - Curriculum for Educators

A new unit plan focusing on the local St. Joseph's Residential School has been developed as part of the Thunder Bay Public Library's Stories of Anishinaabe Resilience (SOAR) Project.

The St. Joseph's Residential School unit is cross curricular, and each lesson incorporates curriculum expectations from different curriculums between grades 9 and 12, including the First Nations, Metis, and Inuit Studies curriculum (2019), the English curriculum (2007), the Canadian World Studies curriculum (2018), and the Arts curriculum (2010).

The St. Joseph's Residential School Unit Plan comes complete with a Teacher's Guide, Student Workbook and Consolidation Card as well as all corresponding powerpoint presentations.

To access the curriculum package, contact Robyn Medicine, Community Hub Librarian, via email to rmedicine@tbpl.ca or phone 684-6812.

FELT. SEW. FULL

Project Mentors

Jean Marshall & Kathryn Walter

Artist Participants

Shelby Gagnon, Bess Legarde,
Melissa Twance, Mary Magiskan,
Maria Hupfield

Local artist Jean Marshall (beadworker) & Toronto based artist Kathryn Walter (The FELT Studio) facilitated this project. Kathryn brought her knowledge of felt and shared tips and techniques of working with felt.

Each artist was given felt materials to explore. The focus was to connect, share, and sew. Sewing is a form of meditation & self care. It was an opportunity to sit and be together. Each of these artists are known in the community for their work with beads, leather, ribbon, and paint. For each of them, felt was a new material. Each piece is unique in style, design & story. These works are inspired by the land & water and can be viewed at the Waverley Library.

They also created a collaborative large scale floral felt piece that is showcased at the Brodie Resource Library.

Miigwech to the Ontario Arts Council for supporting this project.

Collaborative felt piece created by all participants at Brodie Library.

Rufus Moonias, Oji-Cree artist from Neskantaga First Nation. His mural "Resilience" is at the Brodie Library.

Painted portrait of Dolores Wawia (Muk Ke Queh) of Kiashke Zaaging Anishinaabek of Gull Bay First Nation, Ontario.

Artist: Brian Michon of Fort William First Nation

To be installed at the Brodie Library.
